rigging could be replaced. I have stripped the hull and repaired the fiberglass where needed, it's ready for primer and paint. I still have all the original hardware, but it needs to be replaced due to corrosion. The centerboard, rudder and tiller are all wood and have been stripped and refinished, as well as the bronze fittings. I also have the ORIGINAL sails. That's right, original from 1964, with the hawk logo and hull number. The mainsail could use a small patch, otherwise they are in excellent condition. This rig is only a couple of hundred dollars from being in the water. The trailer is a 1959(?) American Trailers boat trailer. I hate to part with this boat, but the wife says it has to go. I am sure that someone will fall in love with her and get her back in the water." Asking $600. Call Joe at Joe.Tait@Verizon.net or 425-788-0315 (WA)
