FREE – 1929 ATLANTIC ONE DESIGN SLOOP – FREE

1929 ATLANTIC ONE DESIGN SLOOP. Owner says, "I purchased the sloop back in 1997 from a man named Cross down in RI. It was headed for scrap at that time. I bought it on my birthday, December 31st, for $3500 which was all the money I had. I had it moved to Brownell Boatyard in Mattapoisett, MA, where I kept it for 3 years and worked on it on the weekends. I was living on Nantucket at the time and working as a carpenter. In 2000, I had it in the water for a week after working on the hull with my father-in-law. She swelled up nicely and stayed in the harbor for a week. The seepage stopped within three hours, and the battery was fresh at the end of a week. Then I moved it to my home in Centerville on Cape Cod. I had a man from Maine living briefly in the neighborhood, and he was helping me begin to restore it a little at a time. Against my specific direction, he went ahead and disassembled much of it and then moved on. (Continued on Page 8.)
